Tipakan Elementary School/San Salvador Elementary School
March 27,2006

The development of community learning centers in every barangays of Lipa cannot be made possible with the sole efforts from Project K. However, this endeavor will be dealt with in our own simple but meaningful way. This paves the way for the KinaBookasan book donation activity.

The first Book Donation Activity of Project K is set on March 27,2006 with Tipakan Elementary School and San Salvador Elementary School as the initial beneficiaries. The staff arrived before the scheduled 9:30 a.m. simple turnover ceremony at Tipakan Elementary School. Vice Mayor Lydio Lopez gave a Webster dictionary for each school. He was represented by his two staff, Ms. Jenefer Jocson and Mr. Jhun Landicho.

Mr. Martinez, the school principal of Tipakan Elementary School was not around because he is required to be at the DepEd district office. Two school faculties gladly represented him. By 10:00 a.m. the Project K and Vice Mayor Lopez' staff was on their way to its second beneficiary school at San Salvador. Mrs. Adelia Silva, the school principal personally accepted the textbooks, story books, library supplies and dictionary. The textbooks and the dictionary will not only benefit the students but also the teachers themselves.

The simple turnover ceremony ended 11:30 a.m. The group ended the activity with simple lunch while having a discussion on where the next Bahay-Aklatan launching will be. Project K got the assurance from the staff of the Office of the Vice-Mayor for assistance and support in future activities that aim at the good of our students from the public schools.
